Editorial Periscope

Lady Astor won for parliament in England by 5,000 votes.

They executed the wrong man in Mexico the other day.

Now let's get an early start for Christmas, only 27 days off.

Pennsylvania has ordered the old telephone rates restored on April 1, 1920.

The government will seize and operate all coal mines whose owners cannot operate them.

Villa is prepared to go on the war-path again to avenge the execution of Angeles.

There is talk of reviving the two-cent piece. No use, a postage stamp is all it will buy.

The wife of Gen. Angeles is so critically ill in New York that she was not told of her husband's execution.

We will have to hand one to Senor Hilara Medina, who does Carranza's correspondence. He writes a good letter.

The entire city council of La-Grange resigned recently in a body and as no election was held, Gov. Black has appointed an entire board.

Probers have discovered that the profiteers have raised the prices of raisins 4 1/2 cents a pound higher than production costs authorize.

The Lyon County Herald announces an increase of advertising rates to 15 and 20 cents an inch and the subscription is advanced to $1.50 a year, for a weekly paper.

Forty marriage licenses were issued in Louisville the day before Thanksgiving and it is hoped that at least so many people were thankful Thursday.

It is about time to decide whether this is a government of and for the people or a debating society with officials and anarchists on the same footing.

The High Cost of Living Commission is disgusted with its attempt to persuade people to reduce prices, with no authority to force them to do so, and is ready to disband in Louisville.

The fifteen-cent hog has again dropped to thirteen cents. The meat packers are determined to force the farmer to give away his hogs to stop them from eating their heads off, as winter draws near.

Such is fame and so soon have we forgotten what was once the most famous name in America. Rev. E. O. Bryan, of the Baptist Mission Board, spoke in Dawson Sunday and got himself in the local paper as "Rev. C. E. O'Bryan."

Carranza had Angeles tried at 10 o'clock at night and shot at 6 o'clock the next morning. Quite a business-like performance in view of the fact that it took him about seven days to answer a demand that an American citizen be released from illegal imprisonment.

The Lord is doing his part to help a trust-ridden people. All reports show bumper world crops of corn, potatoes, barley, rye, sugar beets and rice. Wheat, oats and flaxseed alone show decreases from the five year average. There is more food than ever before and 7,500,000 fewer people to eat it.

Charles E. Edison, of Middletown, Ohio, says that this epitaph actually exists on a tombstone in Ozark County, Mo.:

"Here lies my wife, Samantha Proctor,

Who ketched a cold and wouldn't doctor. She couldn't stay, she had to go, Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

A contest in Owensboro will decide the tenure of office of the city judge elected for two years in 1917 under the commission charter. Another judge was elected and the present official claims that the constitution gives him a four years' term. The same question was raised here and no election was held. If the courts decide an election was in order, it will apply to all third class cities and there will be an appointment to be made in each city where no election was held.

MINERS REJECT DR. GARFIELD'S WAGE PROPOSAL

INCREASE ACCEPTED BY OPERATORS IS TURNED DOWN BY UNIONS.

ADJOURNS; ISSUE UNSOLVED

Union Leaders Claim Operators Acceptance of Plan Is Not In Good Faith.

Washington, Nov. 28.—An abrupt end came late yesterday to all attempts to settle the nation-wide coal strike by peace agreement.

Miners and operators spent a bleak Thanksgiving afternoon in embittered debate over the Government proposal for a 14 per cent wage increase made last night by Fuel Administrator Garfield, rejected it and every other proposal that was forthcoming, and then dissolved sine die.

Participants went home, and where the break left coal strike conditions no one of them, miner or operator, would say. Likewise, in official quarters, there was silence.

Acting President John L. Lewis of the mine workers, though refusing to say one word as to the strike itself which theoretically was called off in obedience to Federal Court injunction holding it a violation of the Lever act for war-time fuel and food control, scored the Government roundly at the conclusion of the conferences. So did William Green, secretary of the mine workers. Operators, though accepting the Government proposal definitely, in a letter of explanation to Dr. Garfield, which they made public intimated that the Government refusal to allow price increases would bear reconsideration.

Thursday's Report.

Washington, Nov. 27.—A Government plan for settling the soft coal strike, which embodied a 14 per cent wage increase for miners and the stipulation that there should be no increase in the price paid by the public, was laid before miners and operators by Fuel Administrator Garfield.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced that the miners would not accept.

After a three-hour conference at which representatives of the miners openly declared the new scale was "insulting," and sharply questioned Dr. Garfield, the sub-scale committee composed of miners and operators met to consider the settlement plan, and quickly adjourned. Another meeting will be held.

The miners' refusal to accept, while not announced to Dr. Garfield, was taken by the operators to be definite. Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the Coal Operators' Association, declared the Garfield 14 per cent statement formally eliminated Secretary Wilson's proposal for a 31 per cent increase.

Operators Ready

"The operators are ready to negotiate a new wage agreement," Brewster said, "despite Dr. Garfield's statement that the Government will not permit an advance in the price of coal."

There was a sharp note of protest from the miners over the amount of increase, which was much lower than they had expected. Frank Farrington, President of the Illinois District of Miners, was cheered when he declared that Union men in his state would not accept it. Answering Farrington, who wanted to know if miners refusing to work would be classed as outlaws, Dr. Garfield said the Government could not compel anybody to work, but that it would provide every protection for those willing to go into the mines and give the country coal it needs.

MERITED HONOR.

BALDHEAD CLUB ROUND TABLE

MANY MEMBERS TELL WHAT THEY ARE THANKFUL FOR

COL. BLAKEMORE IN THE CHAIR

Col. Hancock Finally Gets Tired and Goes Home, Followed By Col. Hooe.

A called meeting of the Baldhead Club was held Thursday night at the request of several members whose wives were out of town and they wanted to have a good time.

"This is the first time we have met since we last assembled," said the genial Colonel as he settled himself in the big cushion chair, "and those who have returned are back again. You are here once more because there is a divinity that shapes our ends for plush divans and upholstered chairs. I am not going to make a speech but open a round table discussion and let the members as they see fit or have fits tell what they are thankful for and if so why. Proceed, Colonels, beginning on my right (Col. Smith you are IT)."

Col. Ira L. Smith arose and said: "I am especially thankful that Col. Blakemore has decided not to make a speech."

Col. Bill Howell said "I am thankful that the Reed who was egged not long ago was not my friend Judge Bill Reed, of Paducah, Ky. I would rather eat an egg myself, provided it is fresh, than have it thrown at a friend of mine, when eggs are a nickel apiece."

Col. Alex. Overshiner said: "I am thankful that I have escaped matrimony for another year and that the fair sex seems to have given me a sort of rest."

Col. Jno. C. Duffy said: "I am thankful that I can derive consolation from that sweet passage of Scripture, 'If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.'"

Col. Green Champlin said: "I am thankful that I know more about the Bible than Col. Duffy. That passage he just quoted is from Shakespeare. But the Bible does say 'Ask and ye shall receive.' I have not received much, therefore I am not overly thankful."

Col. Duffy flared up at the reflection on his knowledge of the Scriptures and retorted: "If you want to know why you have not received, read James 4:3, 'Ye asked and received not because ye asked amiss.' Next time ask a widow."

Col. Bob Woodbridge said: "I am glad that I can pat myself on the back and be glad that I am not like some fellows I know."

Col. Henry Abernathy said: "I am thankful that I can occasionally get out of crowds like this and think about something worth while. I went to church today and sat by myself."

Col. A. L. Berry said: "I am thankful that I do not have to spend all my spare time in church. I go on Sundays but on holidays I like to take a rest."

Col. Wildcat Ed. Jones finally got the floor and said: "I have been trying to get in a word edgewise, but couldn't. I am thankful that we have these national turkey days. I like turkey and I like holidays. When they come together it's a fine combination. I don't mean that I make my dinner off turkey altogether. A turkey is too small for that. He is an odd-sized bird—too big for one and not quite big enough for two. But when he is served with other things to match you can make a big one do for two and sometimes three people if they are not too hungry. I am thankful that I like turkey."

Col. Bill Hancock, showing impatience, got up and said: "I have been out hunting today and am tired. I am thankful I don't have to stay here all night and listen to such stuff. Good night."

As he went out Col. Geo. Gary quoted that expressive Latin phrase: "Abii, excessit, evasit, erupit," which being translated means "He has gone, he has departed, he has escaped, he has torn himself away."

Col. John Hooe said: "I am thankful that we have but one meeting like this in a year."

And they went out.

NOW IN EFFECT.

A proclamation was issued Wednesday by Governor Black proclaiming the adoption of the two constitutional amendments which were submitted to the voters at the last election. One amendment prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors and the other directs and authorizes the Legislature to enact laws for the vacation of offices of officials who fail to perform their duties.

Mr. N. S. Valk, a diamond expert, is spending the week-end with Kolb & Howe and will be glad to confer with their customers and show a full line of gems for the holiday trade.

MEXICO DEFIES UNCLE SAM

REPLY TO U. S. NOTE DECLARES ATTITUDE CANNOT DAMAGE NATION'S RELATIONS

CLAIMS THE COURT SUPREME

Contents Government Cannot Interfere and Denies Right of U. S. to Make Demands.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Mexico has replied with an argumentative diplomatic refusal to the American Government's demand for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, consular agent, imprisoned at Puebla.

The official note was delivered here yesterday, but not made public. There is no reason to doubt that it agrees with the copy given out last night by the Mexican consular general at El Paso.

No comment was forthcoming to indicate how the State Department regards the answer to what was considered one of the sharpest warnings yet sent to Mexico, and neither was there any indication what the Government's next step would be.

AT LITTLE RIVER CHURCH.

A Baptist Campaign rally will be held at Little River church, near Binns Mill, at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. Pollard White, Albert Wallace and Preston White, of Cadiz, are the Four-Minute speakers. The pastor of this church is Rev. C. H. Coleman, a student at Bethel College, Russellville, who will also be present.

JUDGE FINED HIMSELF

City Judge Chas. G. Franklin, of Madisonville, is getting some notoriety out of the fact that he fined himself $6.50 for letting ashes accumulate in his back yard, when his wife reported to him that he was violating a city ordinance.

GOVERNMENT'S PLAN.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The seizure of bituminous coal mines where the owners do not show a disposition to co-operate in increasing production, and the use of troops to protect all miners who desire to work, has been decided upon by the government in an effort to end the bituminous coal strike, it was stated today officially.

In the seized mines, the fourteen percent wage advances, agreed upon by the cabinet, will be put into immediate effect.

While various federal agencies are preparing to carry out the government's program, Fuel Administrator Garfield reaffirmed in even more emphatic terms his position that "Profiteering on the part of either labor or capital will not be tolerated."

"The public cannot and will not be asked to bear the increased burden of higher coal prices, nor of the payment of large sums as wages to any special class of workers," he said.

COMING DOWN HOME STRETCH VICTORY WEEK

BAPTIST CHURCHES ALL OVER THE SOUTH ARE PULLING FOR THEIR GOALS

IN THE 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN.

Several in Christian County Have Already Raised Their Respective Quotas.

All Baptist churches in the South are keyed up for the final drive to raise 75 million dollars for missions and education. Many churches are not waiting for the drive but have already gone far beyond their quotas. This is true of Olivet, South Union, Pembroke, Sinking Fork, West Mt. Zoar and other Christian county churches, but they are working just as hard to go as much over as possible.

Hopkinsville First church has a big job ahead yet, although something like $75,000 has been promised. Another $25,000 is needed to complete the quota. The trustees of Bethel Woman's College have subscribed $15,000 and the faculty and students have subscribed a special fund of $5,300.

At the morning service Sunday every church is expected to announce the result of work done and churches that have fallen short will have another week to make good. Where it is necessary working committees will be sent out to help the weaker churches raise their quotas. The Victory Week closes December 7 when it is expected that the entire $75,000,000 will have been subscribed in the South and Kentucky's part of $6,500,000 will have been more than subscribed.

Under the program of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign $11,000,000 will be invested in state missions in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, where it is estimated there are 23,000,000 people without church relations, during the next five years. A tentative budget of state mission work has been prepared as follows: Church buildings, $750,923; enlistment (building up weak churches) $994,173; evangelism, $1,607,500; Sunday School, B. Y. P. U. and woman's work, $986,271; general missionary work, $6,358,297. The apportionment of the state mission money to be raised by the several states co-operating with the convention follows: Alabama, $586,666; Arkansas, $700,000; District of Columbia, $350,000; Florida, $275,000; Georgia, $1,000,000; Illinois, $213,000; Kentucky, $900,000; Louisiana, $190,000; Mississippi, 665,000; New Mexico, $60,000; North Carolina, $416,666; South Carolina, $525,000; Tennessee, $458,250; Texas, $1,750,000 and Virginia, $1,025,000.

All churches in Christian county are requested to notify Chas. M. Meacham, publicity director, Hopkinsville, of the result of meetings and reports will be promptly made.

LAFAYETTE BAPTIST CHURCH CONFIDENT OF GOING OVER

LaFayette Baptist Church, with a quota of $3,000, raised $2300 Thursday night at a preliminary meeting and the committee is confident of going over the top Sunday morning, when all of the churches are expected to enter upon Victory Week in the 75 Million Campaign. The original quota of LaFayette church was $1,000, but is asked for $2,000 and in the final apportionment was given $3,000. Rev. G. O. Cavanaugh is the pastor.

Trigg School House Burned.

The school house at New Design, near Gracey, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week. School was in session at the time, and the fire started in the ceiling from a defective flue. The building has been in use for many years and the loss is about $300, with no insurance. Mrs. Cattie Thomas was teacher.—Caldiz Record.

Speaking of names, this is from the Dawson Progress: N. M. Nock and Miss Mary Spelling went to Hopkinsville Sunday.

Whisky, 4 per cent beer, wines, cordials, in short, complete barroom assortments of liquor were purchased freely in New Orleans Thursday night following the granting of an injunction today by Federal Judge Foster which, in effect, held the wartime prohibition acts unconstitutional.

"The Equal Month Calendar Association" has been formed at Minneapolis, to advocate 13 months of 28 days each, every month to begin on Monday and run four weeks. If we are to drop two or three days from the present months, by all means let's make the first day, when bills are due, one of them.

Bituminous coal operators were accused of obscuring the issue and again challenged to produce their income tax returns by William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, in a formal answer to their telegram criticising his earlier statement that they made "shocking and indefensible profits in 1917," and should not be allowed to increase prices of coal.

Gen. Felipe Angeles, who was shot by Carranza soldiers Wednesday, was one of the ablest men in Mexico in recent years. He brought the French .75 gun to its high state of perfection and was decorated by the French Government for his services in the war. A man who was friendly to the Allies had not the ghost of a chance when he fell into Carranza's hands. A strong legal effort was made to save Angeles but he was railroaded to his doom and shot the day following his trial by court martial.

Potato profiteers have been getting in their work at Dresden, Tenn., according to this dispatch: "The bulk of the sweet potato crop has been housed and reports from growers are to the effect that the tubers are keeping excellently. Several carloads per week are being loaded out here at the low price of 70 cents per bushel, and it is understood, the consumers in the cities, such as Nashville, Memphis and St. Louis, are paying $3.35 per bushel for the same potatoes. For this reason the growers are co-operating with the local county demonstration agent in an effort to sell their potatoes direct to some of the large department stores in the above named cities in car lots."

Final issues of the Baptist 57 Million Campaign, especially as they relate to Nashville and Tennessee, were presented at a mass meeting at the First Baptist church at 7:30 Thursday night when the speakers were Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the campaign, and J. H. Anderson, millionaire layman of Knoxville, chairman of the executive committee of the Campaign Commission, and who recently gave the sum $200,000 to the campaign and $50,000 toward the erection of a new church edifice in his city the same day. Large contributions from colleges and churches reported Wednesday included $25,000 from Union University of Jackson, with assurance this would be made $30,000—Tennessee.

The is a strong belief that the Mexican government's delay in giving lease of William O. Jenkins, consular agent at Puebla, was part of a deliberate plan to still further antagonize the United States. This belief is based largely upon the official information from Mexico City that officials there were endeavoring to spread the report that this country was on the verge of revolution, and that by holding up reply Mexicans could offer substantial aid to the "revolutionists." Mexican agents in the United States, the advices said, had been sending home highly colored and wildly exaggerated reports concerning domestic conditions, the steel and coal strikes being cited as glaring evidence of industrial unrest.

MEXICAN BANDITS HOLD RANCHERS FOR RANSOM

Washington, Nov. 25.—Ten of wealthiest ranchers of Vera Cruz, captured by bandits November 15, are being held for $15,000 ransom each, advices today from Mexico City said. A number of ranchers were caught at the same time when the bandits dynamited a train, but they were released because they had no funds. Only the rich were held. T. C. McKenzie, American manager of an electric power plant at Ciudad Camarga, Chihuahua, was seized recently by bandits, but Federal forces got him away from them before he could be taken to the hills.

MEXICAN ABDUCTOR OF 2 U. S. FLIERS IS SLAIN

Presidio, Tex., Nov. 25.—Jesus Renteria, the bandit who obtained $15,000 ransom for the return of the United States army aviators, Lieuts. Davis and Peterson, was killed by another bandit at Carrizos Springs, Mexico, in a fight over division of the ransom money, according to apparently reliable reports from Mexican sources received here today.

WE ALL AND YOU ALL

"We all know how the French nobility read Rousseau," says the Literary Digest.

The Digest might have said "all of us know," but it didn't. It might have said "we" without creating the probability of being misunderstood, but the writer wrote, quite naturally "we all."

When a Southerner says "you all" he is accused, invariably, by Northerners of saying "you all" or "you-youall" when he speaks to an individual.

The Courier-Journal pointed, out some time ago the frequent occurrence of "you all" in the text of the Shakespeare plays—particularly in the fine-wrought speech of Marc Antony over the dead body of Caesar—as revealing the human disposition to make the plural "you" more definitely sweeping and inclusive, than it is when simply "you" is uttered orally or written.

To write "We all know" is to make an ingratiating, is not a sincere affirmative of universal familiarity with the period of French history in which the nobility "were so entranced with the romance of Rousseau's pretensions that they never looked out of the window to see the storm brewing." There is a pleasing, inclusive disposition in the form of expression, but when a Southerner so indulges the inclination to include everybody in "you all" or in "we all" he is charged almost invariably with having hyphenated or combined "you" or "we" with "all." Denial and defense are as vain as the watch dog's baying at the serene moon.—Courier-Journal.

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Cloth From Bark of Tree.
The famous "tapa" cloth of Polynesia is made from the inner bark of the paper mulberry. When of the finest quality it is bleached to snowy whiteness and fine as muslin. In tropical Africa the inner bark of a leguminous tree is utilized in the same way. Indeed, it is surprising to learn how widely tree barks are employed as material for clothing the world over. And in the West Indies grows the "lace-bark tree," which yields a delicate tissue so like lace that many articles of feminine adornment are made from it.

Suffer for Sins of Others.
"There is no sort of wrong deed of which a man can bear the punishment alone; you can't isolate yourself, and say that the evil which is in you shall not spread," says George Elliot in Adam Bede. It is only too true that we cannot bear punishment alone. And usually our mistakes entail worse suffering on those who love us than they do on ourselves. Just as on the other hand our successes and rewards bring more joy to our dear ones than to ourselves. "No man liveth to himself alone."

About the Diamond.
The diamond is the hardest stone known. Its name (French, diamant) is derived from the Greek adamas—unconquerable. The word was probably attached to the stone because it conveyed the idea of invincible hardness. No acid will scar it; no solvent will dissolve it. Ages may pass without dimming the luster of its adamantine face.

THE AUTOMOBILE

THE automobile is a rubber-tired cash separator which is being used largely to keep prosperous American citizens from worrying over how to invest their money.

There are a great many varieties of cash separators, but the automobile is by far the best. It can go through an ordinarily flush citizen in a very few months and leave very little cash in the tailings. In fact, its work is approached in thoroughness only by the private yacht, the society bug and the private school for girls.

The automobile is driven by gasoline, assisted by water, oil, electricity, wind and gas, and sometimes horses and mules. Some drivers have also used brains with great success, but the supply is too limited to be generally adopted. If every automobile driver were equipped with a small set of brains, we would have no more accidents which occur while a car is being driven about 75 miles an hour over the speed limit. An auto consists of an engine with 175 parts, connected by a clutch with 95 parts to a gear box with 75 parts and then to a differential with 50 parts. When all of these parts are feeling well and are working together like the old guard Republicans in New York, the automobile is said to be in good running order. However, if any individual part of an automobile is feeling convalescent, and will not work at all, the man who wants to sell the machine to you second-hand will solemnly swear that the machine will run like a watch.

Automobiles come in all sizes, including the piker size, the family size, the bank director size, and the fool size. A small car with only 12 condensed horses in it can be bought for $350 and can be driven over the curb and into a tree as successfully as a big car which costs $5,000 and has tires as fat as elephant's legs.

Automobiles are now very carefully made and are entirely practical, being used for hauling trunks, transporting passengers and getting rid of the idle rich. Automobiles are made which can run 100 miles an hour, but fortunately others are made which can run two miles an hour and will stop when requested. Very few automobiles break down any more, but the number of owners who break up is steadily increasing. This is because the automobile is no longer a weird hobby, but a badge of prosperity, and a great many people are wearing the badge who can't afford to pay their dues.

An auto owner will go 200 miles and pay $35 in fines

Automobiles are more costly now, because they are more reliable, and also because hundreds of people are busy every day inventing new things to hang on them. Ten years ago an automobile would go ten miles and then stop a month, because of a fifty-cent break-down. But now an auto owner will go 200 miles, pay $35 in fines, wear out $50 worth of tires, eat $10 worth of food, knock $75 out of a $40 buggy and neglect $1,000 worth of business all in one day.

The number of automobiles made in this country next year will approach 200,000. This will not supply one-fourth of the people who want them, but after the people who can afford them have bought, there will be 100,000 left and they will all be sold.

BELGIUM BISHOP IS ALSO A BANKER

Belgium has the exception—a precher who is well known as a figure in banking circles. He is Bishop W. H. Nolems, a delegate to the International Labor Conference at Washington, D. C.

When Piano Was New.

The first public performance on a piano was at Covent Garden, London, 152 years ago. The invention of the instrument is credited to Cristoforo, an Italian; J. C. Schroter, a German, and Marius, a Frenchman. The first crude pianofortes were made early in the eighteenth century, but for many years they received no serious consideration from musicians. Johannes Zump, a German, established the first piano factory in England, and it was he who built the instrument that was used in Covent Garden.

Trees of Sorrow.

The Persinn "Trees of Sorrow" are so called because they bloom only at night. When the first star appears in the sky the first flower opens and as the evening advances more and more buds burst into bloom until the lovely tree appears to be one vast flower. It has a delicate fragrance not unlike the scent of the evening primrose. As the dawn approaches the flowers begin to fade until by sunrise not a bloom is to be seen.

Cattalo a Hybrid.

The cattalo is an animal one part of which is the buffalo and the other the cow. The hybrids have been raised in considerable numbers on a cattle ranch in the Panhandle of Texas.

Avoid Extreme Views.

Extreme views are never just; something always turns up which disturbs the calculations formed upon this data.—Disraeli.

THE DOT DRAWING CLASS

"You can readily see," said the Dot Drawing teacher, "that it is rather difficult to draw an oval with the free hand, but with a couple of pins and a piece of string it is an easy proposition. But most everybody who draws finds it necessary to make an oval at one time or other. And what for?" "I know," said George, who had been snapping his fingers vigorously. "You need ovals to draw watermelons."

"So you do," agreed the Dot Drawing teacher. "But they also come in handy when you draw a..."

COULDN'T MATCH THAT STORY

Senator Set Altogether Too Fast a Pace for Even Veteran Bore to Follow.

A senator was entertaining some friends with stories about the Arizona desert, when a bore joined the party.

This bore was the kind of a chap that always laughs in the wrong place and spoils a story by trying to guess its climax. The senator undertook to silence him.

"Poor Ferguson!" he said. "That was a close shave he had in the desert last August."

"Sunstroke, of course," said the bore. "No, not exactly," said the senator.

"You see, Ferguson stumbled accidentally on the Caudron—our famous spring, you know, that gushes out of the rock at freezing point and immediately begins to boil from the fierce heat of the sun."

"Of course, of course," said the bore. "And what happened to Ferguson? Did he fall in the cauldron and boil to death? Get on with your story, man."

"Ferguson fell in," said the senator, "but he managed to scramble out again. The peril, however, was not yet over for him. Our Arizona air, you see, is so dry that it absorbs moisture with astonishing rapidity. Well, the boiling water in Ferguson's clothes evaporated so fast that the poor fellow instantly froze stiff."

"I see," said the bore. "He died of cold. Well, that reminds me—"

"No, he didn't die," said the senator. "He almost died, but he had a miraculous escape. In his stiff-frozen state, you understand, he began to shiver with chill, and he shivered so hard that in a few moments he became overheated and would have succumbed to sunstroke if he hadn't providentially broken into a cold sweat."

Hiding a King's Statue.

The fine equestrian statue of King Charles I, which was hidden in London during the war, has been brought to light again. The statue, which was cast during the reign of the monarch, according to reports has not enjoyed the uneventful career permitted to most works of its kind. It was executed for Sir Richard Weston, afterward earl of Portland, who intended to place it as an ornament in his garden at Richmond. But this function it never fulfilled, for it was seized by parliament during the Civil war and sold to one John Rivett, a brazier, to be broken up. John, however, being a royalist, hid the statue, and, by selling hundreds of bronze knife handles purporting to be made from it, disarmed any parliamentary suspicions in the matter. On the restoration of Charles II in 1660 Rivett produced the statue, which was claimed by Sir Richard's son. The brazier refused to yield it, and after years of dispute it was eventually presented to King Charles II and erected on the spot formerly covered by the original Charing cross.

Antarctic "Shelf Ice."

From the work of recent explorations, Sir Douglas Mawson concludes that the rock foundation on which the Antarctic ice cap rests is very irregular, partly above sea level and partly below, and that its thickness, which is very variable, may reach a maximum of several thousand feet. Under the thickest portions the static pressure at the base may be as great as one ton per square inch. Under such a covering there may be a considerable accumulation of ground heat, and it is assumed that the under portion of the ice mass is undoubtedly soft and plastic. Where the sea breaks up the ice at a rate faster than the flow, the sea front is substantially the coast line. But elsewhere, as in the Great Ross barrier and the Shackleton shelf, the supply of ice exceeds the rate of erosion at the sea front, and the overflow from the land maintains a thick sheet of "shelf ice" extending far out to sea. The sea front of the ice cap, at the present rate of advance or flowing out, is estimated to have left the center in the seventh century of our era.

Fireproofing Concrete Columns.

We have been wont to look upon concrete as capable of resisting a great deal of heat, and it may seem strange to think of coating it with a fireproof material. However, there are conditions under which this is necessary. The bureau of standards has been investigating the condition of concrete which has passed through conflagrations, and has found that if the concrete is made with gravel, particularly siliceous gravel, there is a tendency for the stones to burst in extreme heat, which disintegrates the concrete. Accordingly it is recommended that gravel be avoided wherever possible, but if impossible the gravel concrete may be protected from extreme heat by coating it with an inch of cement held in place by a wire mesh. Plasters may also be used in which asbestos is the principal constituent.—Scientific American.

Closed Chapter of History.

The French newspaper L'Eclair, which, in one of its recent issues, published a note on the seal used by Jules Favre at Versailles in 1871, has received a letter bearing the signature "Louis, prince de Bourbon." The writer protests against the expression, used by L'Eclair, "faux Louis XVII," as applied to his father, Naundorff; and the writer incloses a certificate in which Naundorff is described as duke of Normandy, Louis XVII. It has not sufficed of over 100 years completely to silence that particular chapter of French history. As L'Eclair remarks, "Ever since the 8th of June, 1795, the case was settled for us."

Sunrise.

She struggled to a certain hilltop and saw before her the silent in-flood of the day. Out of the east it welled and whitened; the darkness trembled into light; and the stars were extinguished like the street lamps of a human city. The whiteness brightened into silver, the silver warmed to gold, the gold kindled into pure and living fire; and the face of the east was barred with elemental scarlet.—R. L. Stevenson.

CAME HERE TO WED

California and formerly of Morton's
Gap, were married in Hopkinsville Tuesday. From there the bride and groom went to Nashville to visit chinist. The bride was for several years a valued compositor in the Kentuckian office and has been employed in the New Era office in a similar capacity for the last year or more.

Morton-Morton.

Mr. Burr Morton, aged 65, and ed marriage license on Wednesday.

James M. Johnson aged 51 and HOWE SHOWN UP.

Letters showing a sympathetic leaning on the part of Frederick C.
Howe, former commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island, toward radicals who have been ordered deported were read at an inquiry at the house immigration committee. They were produced after testimony by Byron H. Uhl, now acting commissioner at the island, that conditions under Howe's regime tended to make the island a "forum of bolshevism, a bawdy house and a gambling house."

In reply to recent questions, Uhl admitted that previous to resignation to Mr. Howe last September, immoral women had been allowed to circulate among other prisoners.

He further admitted that one Chinese crew had indulged in gambling to such an extent that a seaman had lost $3,000.

GEN. ANGELES EXECUTED AFTER COURT-MARTIAL

Great Artillerist Victim of Carranza Despite Pleas of Friends.

El Paso, Tex.,—Gen. Felipe Angeles, Mexican revolutionary leader and enemy of the Carranza Government, declared a patriot by his followers and friends, was executed as a traitor to the Mexican Government by a firing squad at Chihuahua City, Mexico, at 6:35 a. m. today. He had never recognized the present government as rightfully representing Mexico.

The specific charge against Angeles was rebellion. He was found guilty by four Carranza generals sitting as courts-martial at Chihuahua City at 10:45 o'clock last night, after a session that had lasted almost continuously for approximately thirty-nine hours.

Was Military Genius.

Angeles throughout the world was known as a military genius. He was the reputed friend of Americans and during his trial lauded this country and its citizens. He was the man who brought the 75-millimetre gun to the perfection that gave it fame as the world's most efficient piece of artillery. For his work for France he was made a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor.

Angeles came out of Mexico in 1918 and bought a dairy farm near El Paso. Later he went to work for the French Government inspecting munitions.

Five days after the World War ended with the signing of the armistice, Angeles returned to Mexico as an intellectual leader of the Villa movement. It was said Villa promised outrages against foreigners and natives would be stopped if Angeles would join him. Villa proclaimed Angeles provision president of Mexico.

Would Save His People.

Angeles had been quoted as saying he believed a day of accounting between the United States and Mexico had been postponed by the great war, and he wished to save his people from this by "calling the people to repentance" and welding them into a single mass for the uplift of all. When he went across the line to join Villa, he said:

"I am going back to lift my country out of the depths of lawlessness to which she has fallen, or else to die for her."

Gen. Angeles was captured November 15, lacking a day of being a year from the time he entered Mexico with a high resolve. He had been hiding in a cave after leaving Villa's main body of troops. The two, it was reported had disagreed over Angeles' reported opposition to the plan for an attack on Jurez in June, which led to American troops crossing the Rio Grande and driving out the rebels.

Finally Captured.

Angeles, when discovered, lost five killed among his handful of followers, but escaped the Carranza net. He was overtaken, however, and subdued. But four of his men were left when he finally was captured. Two were executed summarily.

The other two went to trial with Angeles. One, Major Nestor Enciso de Aroc, was also sentenced to death, but his sentence was commuted to twenty years' imprisonment. The other, Antonio Trillo, a boy but 17 years old, must serve six years and eight months.

The trial was held in Teatro de Los Heroes (Theatre of the Heroes) in Chihuahua before a throng that filled the theatre to capacity and left hundreds of friends and curious outside. Hundreds of women were in the audience and a group of society leaders, as well as others, often interrupted the court to plead clemency for Angeles.

The pleas were unavailing, as were similar pleas to Mexican courts and to the present president of the republic.

A delegation of prominent citizens of Parral, Mexico, went to Chihuahua to plead for Angeles. On different occasions he had saved their lives when endangered by Villa or his followers. General Alvaro Obregon, former Minister of War for Carranza, and now candidate for President of Mexico, also owes his life to the intercession of Angeles with Villa, it was said.

When news reached El Paso early Wednesday morning, of the execution at Chihuahua City, El Pasoans recalled the arrest and conviction in the United States court here some months ago of Col. Frederico and other adherents of Angeles on the out-fitting of a military expedition in this country.

Mrs. Angeles, during the activities of her husband across the border, was said to receive frequent messages from the General and manifested great interest in his welfare and that of his cause.

Carranza Is Scored.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—Upon receipt of information announcing the execution of General Felipe Angeles at Chihuahua City, General Roque Gonzales Garza, former Provisional President of Mexico, but now president of the Lone Star Truck Factory, San Antonio, wired President V. Carranza as follows:

"Men like you who forget, due to passions, the valuable services rendered Mexico by the patriot, General Angeles, deserve the curse of their people."

A number of similar messages were sent by prominent Mexican refugees here.

-about periodical advertising:

Have You Really Seriously Considered and Appreciated this Business Force?

By periodical advertising, we refer to the use of space in magazines, newspapers or farm papers, presenting in that space, by means of words and pictures, the reasons why your product or products should be bought by readers of the publication selected to carry your message.

In asking you whether you have really seriously considered and appreciated this business force, we have in mind the thousands upon thousands of manufacturers who are daily increasing their business by this method to a degree greater in magnitude and at a cost less in proportional expense than through any other possible medium.

We have in mind that practically every big and progressive business institution in the United States is a periodical advertiser.

We have in mind that the "little fellows" of a few years back, who today are fast becoming predominant and pre-eminent in their field, are no longer little because they did consider and appreciate periodical advertising.

Why should these things be?

The buyer of any product selects the brand he or she knows best. He thinks to be best at the price he or she is willing to pay.

It is therefore obvious that the task presented to the manufacturer in order to produce the greatest number of sales is one of creating such an impression in the minds of the greatest possible number of ultimate consumers.

The function of advertising is the accomplishment of that task, whether it be word of mouth advertising from consumer to consumer; booklets, folders, circular letters, etc.; dealer literature; propaganda through salesmen or periodical advertising direct to the consumer. All are forms of advertising. All are good. All should be used.

The point we want to make is that periodical advertising should not be overlooked, because it is the most inexpensive — the most effective — and the surest way to insure the greatest possible results from all forms of advertising used as well as from itself.

It is the most inexpensive because it enables you to talk to more people at a less cost than any other method of publicity. This is easily proved. Even suppose you send out 10,000 circulars under 1c postage. The cost in postage alone would be $100.

Through periodical advertising you can reach 10,000 people with an advertisement the size of a letter head (11 1/4 x 8 1/2") in almost any periodical for less than $50. As a matter of fact, in many newspapers the cost would be less than $20 on contract.

Consider that fact seriously. You will appreciate it if you do. You will appreciate it because it is logical; because it is sound business judgment to buy products of equivalent value at the lowest possible price.

Again, when you appeal to the ultimate consumer through periodical advertising, your message is actually being paid for by the reader. The reader, of his own free will, buys the publication containing your message. Buys it for only one purpose—to read, and to enjoy and profit by reading.

That's the attitude of mind of the consumers when they read your message — and consider, through what other channel can you reach your ultimate consumers when they are in as receptive a mood.

Again, a periodical is read by several people other than the buyer. Statistics indicate that at least three individuals will read a publication before it is destroyed.

Again—when the public reads an advertising message in a publication he or she has been educated to appreciate that the story is true or it would not have been accepted for publication by the periodical.

Sir, these are but a few of the most pertinent facts why periodical advertising wields such a tremendous business force. There are many other reasons; reasons peculiar to your particular business and it is the opportunity to explain fully that prompts this advertisement of advertising.

There is no "canned" plan of successful advertising. Your problems are different from those of other manufacturers and what you should do can only be decided by study and investigation.

The institutions whose names are signed below know advertising—all forms of it. And as your doctor is to your health—as your lawyer is to your legal problems—so is the institution of recognized and accredited advertising counselors to the advertising problem.

Write, telephone or call upon any of the undersigned and they will be glad to prepare, without cost or incurring any obligation, a conscientious recommendation of procedure.

GOV-ELECT 'HIDING OUT'

Onslaught of Pleasurers Drives Him
Out of State.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 26.—That Governor-elect Edwin P. Morrow is "hiding out" in a distant state because of the annoyance occasioned him by would-be office holders under the new administration was a fact revealed today when Mr. Morrow failed to appear at a luncheon of the Rotary Club, where he was expected to be the guest of honor. It was stated that during the past week neither the Governor nor his secretary had been able to keep pace with application for "pie" presented in person and coming by mail. It was then decided that the Governor-elect must get ready for inauguration and his friends persuaded him to take a brief rest. Inquiries concerning the Governor's whereabouts were all met with the same reply: "He's in a distant state."

Lieut. Governor-elect S. Thurston Ballard addressed the Rotarians. He said the job hunters have been after him also. He has been so vilified before the election, the speaker said, he did not have the slightest hesitation about instructing the girl operating the switchboard at his mill to tell all callers that "Mr. Ballard is not in." He promised to give Kentucky a good administration. The prospect of presiding over the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly, Mr. Ballard said, almost "scared me to death." He confided to brother Rotarian that he had never seen a legislature before.

GOVERNMENT HORSES ARRIVE HERE FOR WORK

About forty or fifty government horses were shipped here Monday night to be used by the Brandenburg Construction Company, now engaged in building the road from the city to the Government reservation.

The construction company will establish a camp on the government grounds on the Joe Lantip property. The work on the government road is being pushed with all possible speed, as contracts will soon be let for several buildings. Proposals have already been asked by the government for three of the main buildings, and it is understood that proposals for twenty-one more will soon be asked for.—Dawson Progress.

Priceless Persian Rugs.

It is a well known fact that an Oriental never sets foot upon his rug with even the soft sandals that he wears. When his foot is set upon his rug it is entirely bare, and this is the reason why oriental rugs woven hundreds of years ago are still perfectly preserved. The hunting rugs of Persia have a great historical value, as they depict authentically how the phoenix and elephant were hunted in ancient days. Mounted hunters pursuing the lion, deer, and other creatures, both fabulous and real, form the groundwork of all of these rugs.

Growth at Capital Between Wars

Here are two interesting pictures which show development in civic life in the last twenty years—Washington, D. C., being an example. The upper picture was taken at the close of the Spanish-American war—about 1899. The lower picture is a new one—the same street—famous Pennsylvania-av—at the close of our world war. Both pictures were taken from the steps of the United States Treasury.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

Farmers in Ten Days of Nice Weather or Sowed Much Wheat.

The farmers very generally avail themselves of the nice weather preceding the rain Wednesday to get in the belated wheat crop.

The spell of open, pleasant weather gave the farmers opportunity to catch up in a large measure with their wheat sowing. The farmers were very pessimistic while the rains continued to fall with unparalleled vigor during October, just at the time when they should have been sowing their wheat according to the usual schedule. And predictions were freely made that the sowing this year would be largely curtailed and that much which was sown would not make anything.

But with the return of sunshiny days which rapidly dried out the ground and made it tillable again, the farmers forgot their forebodings and turned to it with a will to get in the wheat crop. The result is that the shortage in the acreage has been, in a large measure overcome and prospects are good for a good crop next summer.

MR. BINNS AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR CANADA

Take Best Wishes of Many Friends
To Their New Home.

Mr. J. M. Binns, who sold his farm near Glenwood some weeks ago to T. F. Redd, and who has been winding up his business affairs for several weeks past, left Monday, in company with Mrs. Binns and Miss Edith, for their future home in Meota Sask, Canada. They had planned to drive through in their car, but changed their plans at the last moment and left Hopkinsville on a late train Monday night. Edwin, the son, left on Friday before with a carload of household goods, live stock and the like, and Misses Ruby and Elizabeth who are teaching, will remain here, but their plan now is to follow the family to Canada in the early spring. Mr. Binns owns property in Canada, where he has lived before, and will devote his time to farming and wheat growing. Two sons, Walter and Bert, and a daughter, Miss Kate, are already in Canada.

Tripp county had no more splendid family than the Binns, and they carry with them into their new home the very best wishes of hosts of true friends in old Kentucky.—

Recipient of Old Honor.

Prince Ferdinand Radziwill, who recently presided at the opening of the new Polish parliament, is a distant relative of the Hohenzollerns and one of the pillars of the old Polish nobility. The honor accorded Prince Radziwill was declared to be absolutely without political significance, but entirely a matter of custom. The prince came into the temporary presidency by reason of seniority only. He is eighty-five years old and is the oldest member on the floor of parliament. By virtue of a similar custom the youngest two members of the house, a socialist and a Catholic priest, neither of them more than twenty-five years old, acted as vice presidents and sat to left and right of the old nobleman all through the first session, assisting him in the carrying on of his duties.

Ships and Their Names.

Peace has brought with it the incidental discussion in a section of the English press of the meaning of and reason for the names of certain ships in the British navy. Truly my lords of the admiralty, acting as sponsors, have gone to some strange sources for the nomenclature. Not merely countries and cities have been drawn upon, but many of the creatures figuring in a menagerie have been freely utilized. Then there are the vessels named after the public schools and institutions of England, such as Uppingham, Tonbridge, Westminster, Rugby, Cheltenham, Epsom and so on. If Elton should feel jealous over the matter of its neglect it can take a kind of reflected comfort in the fact that there is a destroyer called Windsor.

Fingers Tireless Travelers.

Typists' fingers are the most amazing travelers in creation, and are capable of going tremendous distances without the fatigue that would come to the feet and legs in performing a similar journey. In ordinary typewriting the hand may travel, according to an expert, 10,000 miles a year and not indicate any impairment in efficiency. This refers, of course, to the average typist in an office.

Greeks Prize Rugs.

Rug making is as old as Greece itself, but it was never made a commercial item, and it was rare indeed that a weaver could be persuaded to part with his rug. Greek rugs are of two kinds, the heavy ones used in winter and the light ones used at all times. In the beginning the designs were of the simplest, but later the Greeks borrowed floral designs from the Persians, which loan was amply repaid with the development of Grecian art. Venetian rugs are also very rare.

NO LIMIT TO PARTISANSHIP

Washington, Nov. 28.—Not content with carrying partisan politics to the limit in every phase and activity of its special session, the Republican Congress has gone outside the fold of strictly domestic relations to embarrass the United States abroad by what seems to have been a deliberate attempt to snub the nations represented in the International Labor Conference, now in session here under the auspices of the League of Nations. After authorizing the President to call the conference and placing the United States in the position of host to the civilized nations of the world Congress then proceeded to show every possible sign of cordiality.

In the first place the United States was not officially represented in the conference as a member of the League, to which we were the official host, and it was made apparent to the conference that not only was it not the desire of the Republican majority that the United States should participate, but that same majority looked with contempt on the League of Nations, the parent of the conference, and had set out to "knife it" in the interest of partisanship.

But this was not enough. Probably the most humorous act of the past session was when the Republican partisans permitted Great Britain to buy even the small American flag that decorated the table assigned to the United States at the conference.

Early in October, when it was decided that the Labor Conference should be invited to hold its meeting in Washington, Congress was asked to advance funds. It was then definitely promised by the Representatives of the League that this government would be reimbursed by the League for funds so advanced, the funds to be used in fitting out quarters and providing the necessary machinery for the conference. That this agreement was acceptable to Congress is apparent from the fact that at the last moment an inadequate appropriation was made, but not until after funds had been advanced by the British Treasury. The American appropriation did not become available until three and a half weeks after the start of the conference and just about one week before the Conference had determined to adjourn.

Congress was asked to advance $200,000 to carry the conference for sixty days, all funds unused to revert to the United States Treasury and the government to be reimbursed for all funds used. Congress eventually appropriated $60,000 which became available so late that Great Britain in the meantime had to advance funds in order that this country might entertain. From these funds the afore-mentioned American flag was bought. The conference to date has cost approximately $125,000, to be paid out of the League of Nations Treasury. Several days ago the advance of the United States congress of $65,000 became available and it is doubtful whether any of it will be used. The story of our penury has gone broadcast through the necessity of appealing to Great Britain to supply funds. The delegates to the Labor Conference from all parts of the world are acquainted with it.

PAID TO LOAF

Higher wages to bituminous coal miners would mean rewarding men "who prefer to loaf rather than produce coal" is the claim of the executive committee of the operators in Central territory in a statement issued.

Excerpts from a "typical mine payroll" are quoted to show that out of 175 men offered an opportunity to work twenty-two days in a month only 46 presented themselves.

"On every occasion that the mine wage scale has been advanced during the last few years, the number of these idlers has increased, because they were able to earn all they required in a fewer number of days," the statement read.

Names of fifteen miners, taken from payrolls were listed in a statement, showing daily earnings from $8.10 to $13.05. "Thousands of others showing similar earnings could be added to this list," it was stated.

Bituminous coal mines east of the Mississippi river in 1917 made what might be termed fabulous profits, the general average being from 100 to 150 per cent on invested capital, according to a statement issued by Secretary Glass, based on data furnished by experts of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Torch of One's Own.

As Plutarch tells us: "It is well to go for a light to another man's fire, but not to tarry by it, instead of lighting a torch of one's own." A torch of one's own! That is a possession worth having, whether it be a flaming beacon on the hilltop or a tiny taper in the window. We cannot tell how far a little candle throws its beams, nor who is laying his course by its flickering light. The most that we can do—and it is also the least that we should do—is to tend the flame carefully and to keep it steady.—Brander Matthews.
